Job Vacancy Announcement

Assistant or Associate Professor of Political Science

(Full-time, tenure-track faculty position, anticipated for Fall Semester 2023)

POSITION TITLE: Assistant or Associate Professor of Political Science

JVA#: 2022-23

DEPARTMENT: Department of Social Sciences
School of Education, Humanities, and Social Sciences

POSITION SUMMARY: This is an appointment for a full-time, tenure-track Assistant or Associate Professor of Political Science position (rank dependent upon qualifications). We seek a candidate with an earned Ph.D. in Political Science or closely related field who can teach a variety of Political Science courses. ABD candidates will be considered with the stipulation that the PhD must be conferred no later than August 1, 2024. Must teach effectively using alternative modalities (e.g., on-line, video livestreaming, Moodle, etc.) in addition to a traditional classroom setting. This position will work as a team member on undergraduate program development. Appointment anticipated to begin Fall semester of 2023.

RESPONSIBILITIES: All faculty positions include a minimum of a 12-credit teaching load (may include online, web-based, or interactive video instruction and/or courses at off-campus locations), academic advising, as well as participation in school committees and University governance. The preferred candidate will be able to teach American National Government, Introduction to Politics, State and Local Government, Political Thought, Comparative Politics, Judicial Process, Public Administration, American Constitutional Law, International Relations, and other courses as needed and qualified. Must work collaboratively with departmental faculty from other disciplines. The successful candidate will demonstrate evidence of the potential for excellence in teaching, and dedication to University and community service.

All faculty are expected to:

- Take a supportive interest in the academic progress of each of their students.
- Meet with their classes as scheduled. In case a faculty member is kept from their duties by illness or other legitimate reason, the faculty member must inform the respective Dean in advance, if possible, so that arrangements can be made for assignments or a substitute instructor.
- Maintain adequate office hours as assigned so that they may be available to the students for conferences to assist students toward achieving student success.
- Participate in the faculty-student advisory program.
- Keep abreast of their academic discipline through continuing study, and/or active participation of their professional organizations.
- Continuously strive to improve the effectiveness of their teaching.

- Keep accurate records of grades and other information required by the Deans, Registrar, Provost, President and any other administrator as may be appropriate.
- Attend all faculty meetings of the University and the respective school in which the faculty teaches.
- Attend commencement and convocations and to cooperate fully with the BSU Board of Governors, the President, the Provost and the Dean in promoting the interests of Bluefield State University and the respective School.

MINIMUM REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS: Applicants must have an earned Ph.D. in Political Science or closely related field or be ABD (with degree conferred no later than 8/1/24). Experience in teaching Political Science courses at the college or university level is also required. An ability to effectively use alternative modalities (e.g., on-line, video livestreaming, Moodle, etc.) in addition to teaching effectively in a traditional classroom setting is required. Background in International Relations is desirable.

COMPENSATION: Salary is commensurate with qualifications and experience. Position is dependent upon available funding.

THE UNIVERSITY: The mission of Bluefield State University is to provide students an affordable, accessible opportunity for public higher education. A historically black institution, Bluefield State University prepares students for diverse professions, graduate study, informed citizenship, community involvement, and public service in an ever-changing global society.
