

AMERICAN COLLEGE of EDUCATION

Education is a key to empowerment.

Apply for one of two full HBCU scholarships by June 20

With more than 70 online programs in education, nursing, business, healthcare and leadership, our students gain the knowledge, skills and confidence to serve, lead and achieve. That's why we're offering two full scholarships to graduates of Historically Black Colleges and Universities. It's time to take your career to new heights.

Here are the details:

- The HBCU Graduate Scholarship is open to new education students who graduated from a Historically Black College or University (HBCU) and who will start their first class at ACE during the August 23 term.
- Each year, two (2) full scholarships* may be awarded to eligible new students.
- One scholarship is designated for a master's level applicant and one is designated for a doctoral level applicant.
- The review process will be completed by July 16. Awardees must accept the scholarship offer and enroll by July 30 for the August 23 term start.
- Complete the scholarship application process by June 20 to be considered.

Submission Requirements:

- Essay (500 words or less) answering one of the following prompts:
 - Master's level: What factors in your personal educational journey have contributed to your persistence and success in post-secondary education? Provide specific examples to support your assertions.
 - Doctoral level: What factors are conducive to persistence and success for Black students in post-secondary education? Support your assertions with evidence from empirical research, citing sources as appropriate and providing a reference list.
- Transcripts from qualifying HBCU confirming graduation and demonstrating academic eligibility.
- Two letters of recommendation – one demonstrating academic ability and one demonstrating personal characteristics, work ethic or need.

Apply at ace.edu/scholarships/hbcu-graduate-scholarship

Explore our programs and the student experience at ace.edu

For more information contact
Darryl Brown | darryl.brown@ace.edu